PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

"Uncommon Courtesy"

By: Max Fiester

y and large, most of the members of the Evansville Bar Association feel they practice in a bar that is exceptional. The exception is not due to having the smartest attorneys in the state, or the most notable attorneys in the region, or the highest-profile clients (all of which may be true). No, the exception relates to our members' interaction with each other. The level of mutual respect shown to other attorneys in this area is remarkable, and something that I believe exceeds the common practice outside of Southwestern Indiana.

The EBA previously had a practice of publishing our Code of Professional Courtesy on occasion in the Summation. It was suggested that we revisit this practice. As part of that exercise, we will be examining the Code and updating it if necessary. The EBA Code of Professional Courtesy was adopted on May 17, 1990 as shown by the signatures of President Ed Johnson and Secretary Jim Casey. It was then revised on January 11, 2007 as shown by President Shannon Frank and Secretary Shawn Sullivan. The Code's purpose, as shown in the Preamble, is a noble one: "In order to promote a high level of professional courtesy and enhance and preserve the professional relationships among members of the Evansville Bar Association...."

Importantly, the Code recognizes our primary duty as attorneys is first to our clients. Just as importantly, it defers to the Rules of Professional Conduct. However, it rejects the idea that effective advocacy is mutually exclusive from courteous interaction with your legal adversary and colleague at the bar. It recognizes that being 15 minutes late to a hearing or meeting does not enhance your client's position. It counsels against "wrongful and gratuitous personal criticism of other counsel" unless action must be taken under the Rules of Professional Conduct. Phrases like "courteous tone" and "cordial and respectful demeanor" pervade the Code. The Code also requires deference and courtesy to the Court in both presentation and the status of any developments in the case. Our Oath of Attorneys says nothing about wearing a tie to the courtroom, but our Code of Professional Courtesy requires men and women to dress appropriately. I recently received notices of deposition in a case outside of Southwestern Indiana where the noticing attorney made no effort to secure a date by agreement. Our Code of Professional Courtesy recognizes this places a burden on opposing counsel, and encourages mutually agreeable dates in litigation. Again, this effort does not weaken a client's position, but it does facilitate courteous interaction.

Stay tuned as we reexamine the Code and print it for your refreshed recollections. In the meantime, consider taking what opportunities you can to show your fellow attorneys some "uncommon courtesy."

EBA News

VLP News

By: Judge Smith and Magistrate Corcoran

On January 19th, members and friends of the Evansville Bar Association joined the family of the late Susan Helfrich to honor her work with the local legal community. Cited throughout the memorial service was her commitment to the disenfranchised and marginalized in our society. Susan was among the founders of the Volunteer Lawyer Program and had her finger in nearly all pro bono efforts created during her quarter of a century of service to our Bar. One of the most enduring parts of that legacy is our Talk to a Lawyer Program, which has been helping area residents navigate the complexities of the legal system for well over a decade. In just the past five years, TTAL volunteers have fielded 3075 calls covering every imaginable area of the law (and some areas unimaginable). This past month, the EBA and VLP hosted two sessions, the usual on the first Thursday of the month and a special session on the Martin Luther King Jr. Holiday. Thanks to the EBA Diversity Committee for planning the MLK event. If you are interested in volunteering for TTAL, which runs monthly from 4:30 p.m. until 7:00 p.m. at the EBA offices, contact Scott Wylie at vlpwylie@sigecom.net or 812.402.6303.

Around The Bar

Many of our Young Lawyers volunteered to serve lunch and/or dinner at the Evansville Rescue Mission in January. Special Thanks to Lori Underwood for coordinating the volunteers.

Javi Lugo and Alex Scates volunteering with the Teen Court.

Attorney volunteers needed to mentor youth in Teen Court!

Youth Resources' Vanderburgh County Teen Court is a restorative justice program for first-time juvenile offenders (ages 10-17). Teen Court provides guidance, mentoring, and close supervision and gives at-risk youth the skills, confidence, and support needed to become contributing citizens of our community.

Attorney volunteers have the opportunity to work with youth (8th-12th grade) at a real sentencing hearing. Teens volunteer as defense and prosecuting attorneys, jurors, bailiff, and judge observer. Adult volunteers mentor the youth attorneys and help them present their case to the teen jury. No courtroom experience is required! Pro bono hours served at Teen Court are reported quarterly to the Volunteer Lawyers Program.

Teen Court is held every Monday night in Superior Court. Adult volunteers are asked to arrive at 4:15pm to prepare for the evening's case. Hearings start promptly at 5pm and end no later than 6pm. Application required before volunteering. Find out more on February 8 at 5:30pm at Youth Resources at our quarterly training for new youth & adult volunteers.

Contact Teen Court Program Coordinator Laura Heister at 812-421-0030 ext. 17 or laurah@youth-resources.org to get involved.

Javier Lugo,

President

very year, the Evansville Bar

Foundation awards grants to local organizations who aim to promote justice and improve lives through the law. Since the Evansville Bar Foundation is our Foundation, I'd like to take this opportunity to tell you about one of those organizations and the good work it does.

Youth Resources of Southwestern Indiana is a local organization that, in 2005, with the help of the Evansville Bar Foundation, held its first ever Teen Court Hearing. At a Teen Court Hearing, a juvenile who has been charged with a juvenile offense will have a sentencing hearing where the prosecutor, defense attorney, and jurors are made up of middle and high school peers.

I've participated in several Teen Court hearings and I've seen firsthand how Teen Court can make an impact on these kids' lives. At the sentencing hearing, the jury of peers decides on an appropriate sentence for the juvenile with an emphasis on restorative-based justice. A type of justice that attempts to provide the juvenile offenders with resources, knowledge, and life lessons for the future. A type of justice that emphasizes that even though they got in trouble, they are still valued in this community.

LAW LIBRARY NEWS Secured Wireless Update

Beginning February 3, 2017, current members of the Vanderburgh Law Library Foundation will need to update their passwords to have access to the VLLF secured wireless network in the Courts Building. Please stop in during library hours (8 AM to 4 PM M-F) to get your new password. If you have not previously signed a wireless access agreement, you can take care of that at the same time. While unsecured wifi is available to all in the Courts Building, access to the VLLF network allows printing from your wireless device (regular print charges apply), in addition to a more secure connection for your communications. Not a Law Library Foundation member? This is another good reason to become a member, or to renew your membership if it has lapsed!

Your questions, comments, and suggestions are always welcome. Please call 812-435-5175 or send email to evvlaw@evansville.net.
